

14th - 26th March 2023.

A very big thanks from the Scottish team for being so attentive to our wants in the way of boots. Your knowledge of Indian boot calls our keen eyesight has made a big difference to the number of boots seen. We would not hesitate to recommend you to other boot watching groups or individuals.

Thank you so much for hosting us in your home country. We feel that we have had a wonderful taste of Uttarakhand.

It was truly an honour to meet you and we were grateful to learn about your language and culture alongside all your bird knowledge.

We appreciated your 'tranquil' bird-man approach to birding and to life - Dhanyavaad.

We hope to see you one day in Wales or England!

With gratitude and care
from Kathy + Alex

Thank you for a wonderful introduction to the birds of India. Your patience is a true blessing and I enjoyed our time chatting as much as the birds.

9 early mornings and late nights is tough for anybody, but you remained in good cheer throughout, especially in the many slow moments. Best of luck as Covid passes and the foreign birds (and hopefully bird!) return. Let me know if you ever make it to the US birding trip to Northern India with Sonil as our excellent guide

Sonil knows all the locations very well and his knowledge & field skills are very good

He picked out some very special birds on call and then located with his sharp eyesite which were very happy to have with us!

His language skills are also a brilliant asset

Sat Tal 17/2 19

I have been with Sunil Kumar on a 8 day trip to Corbett NP, Pangost and Sat Tal. Long days with birding and mammaling from dawn to dusk.

Sunil is a top-quality guide to put it simple! He knows the sites extremely well with detailed knowledge ^{of where} to find what ever target bird you may have.

His skills in birding ID are second to none. He knows the calls and his ability to hear even the weakest 'tick' from the densest scrub is unbelievable.

I wish, I have had Sunil as a guide on my previous 7 visits to the Indian Sub-Continent!
